

In 2012, Washington Insiders Used Social Networking Sites for Wide Variety of Work-Related Purposes

2012 Purposes of Regular Social Networking Use by Respondent Type

Analysis

- In 2012, Capitol Hill staffers had the greatest share of respondents using social networking sites for any one purpose (getting information about other people)
- Federal executives had the lowest percentage of respondents using social networking sites for any one purpose (sharing news)