

Republican Presidential Candidates Are Unhappy With Debates

Some Presidential Campaigns' Debate Suggestions and Complaints

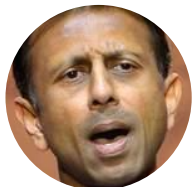

Bush

- Reinstate Telemundo debate

Carson

- Broadcast debates on the Internet only
- Have fewer debates
- Prioritize candidates' speaking time over moderators' interventions
- Have one two-hour debate including every candidate

Jindal

Santorum

Graham

- Equal treatment: have 2 debates each with 7 randomly selected candidates

Trump

- Threatened to boycott a debate if Telemundo debate is reinstated
- Have fewer debate participants

Kasich

- Candidates need more time to speak and explain their positions

Cruz

- Debates need conservative moderators

Fiorina

Notes

- Republican presidential campaign representatives met on Sunday, November 1 to discuss demands for future debates; they will release a joint letter to television networks by Tuesday, November 3, 2015
- One thing all campaigns all agreed on is that the changes would only apply to debates after the upcoming Fox Business Network debate