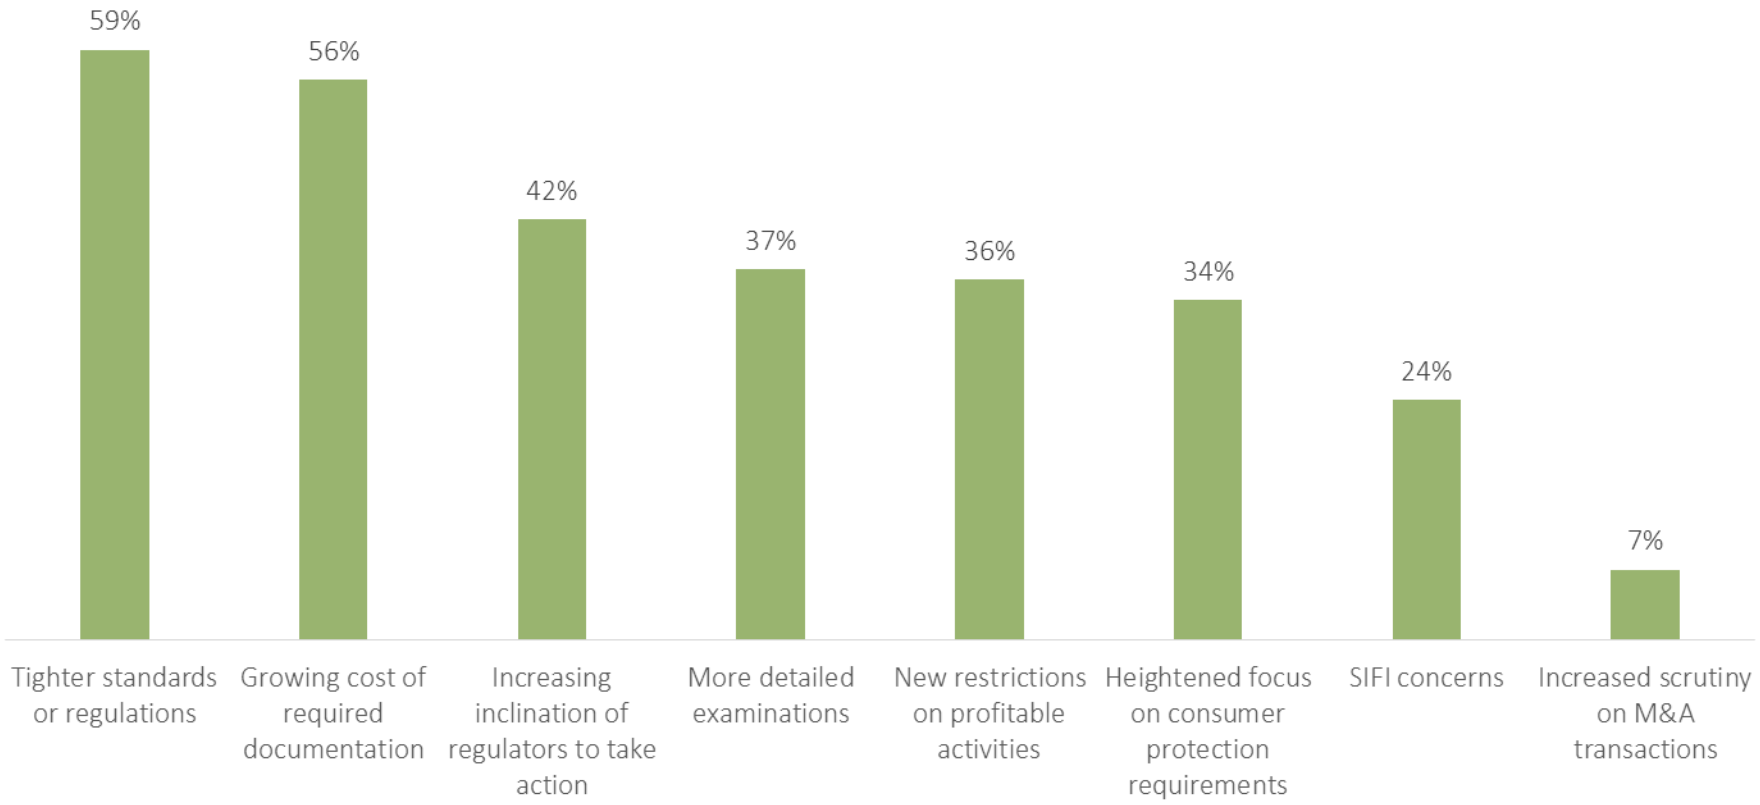
More than half of companies are concerned about the tightening of regulations and standards this year

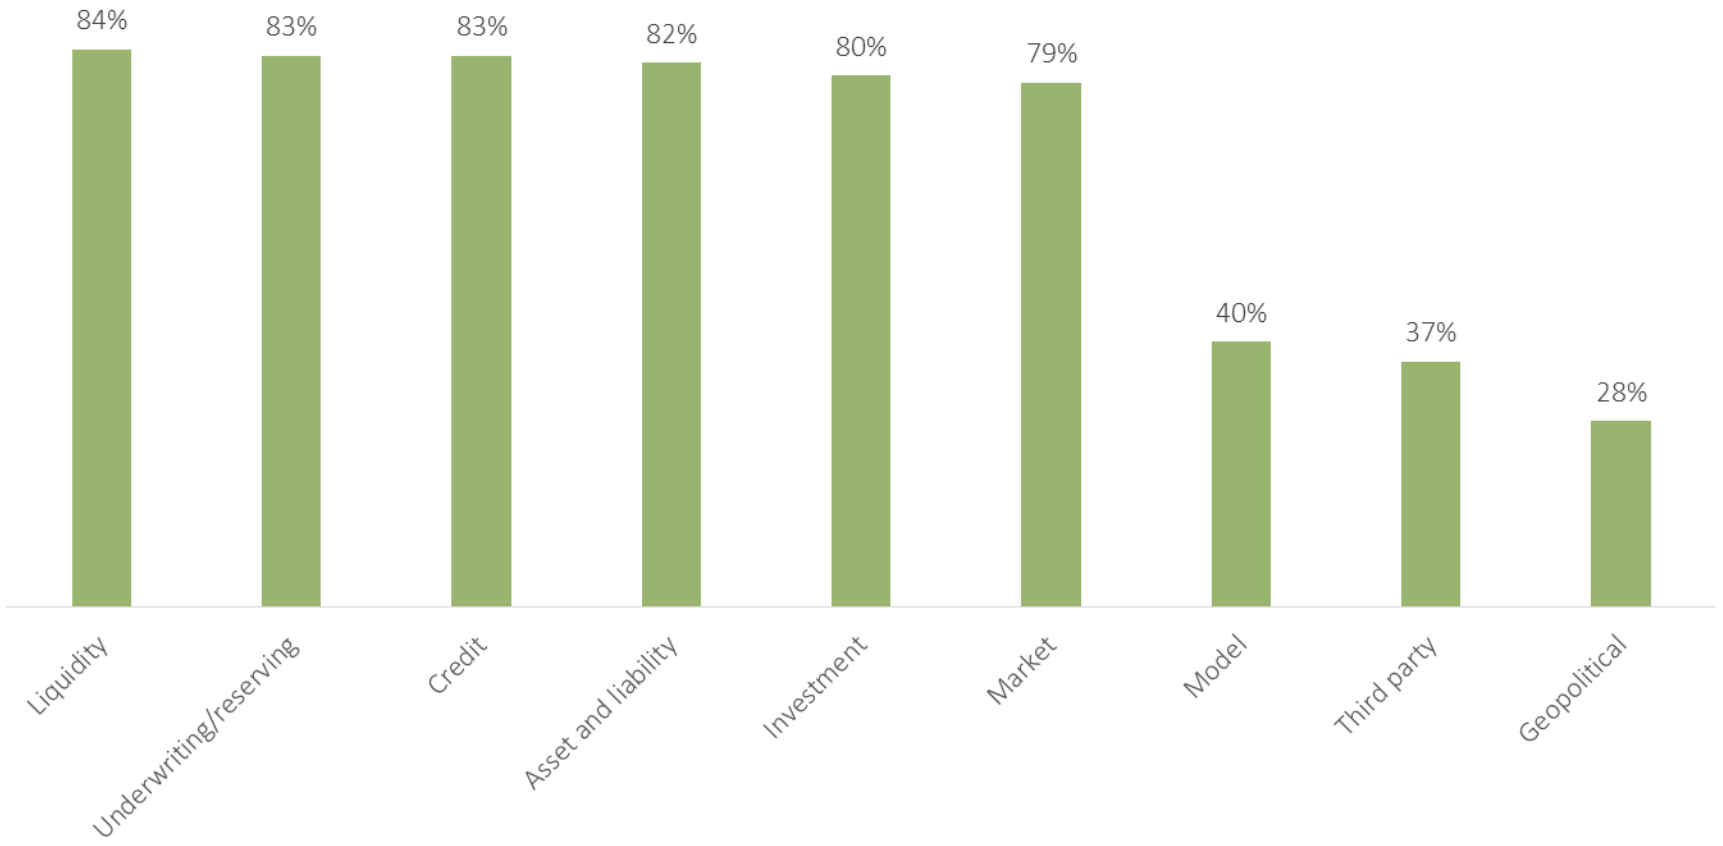
What future regulatory events are you concerned about?



Source: Deloitte University Press, "Global risk management survey, 10th edition," March 2, 2017.

A majority of companies believe that they are prepared to handle credit and liquidity problems

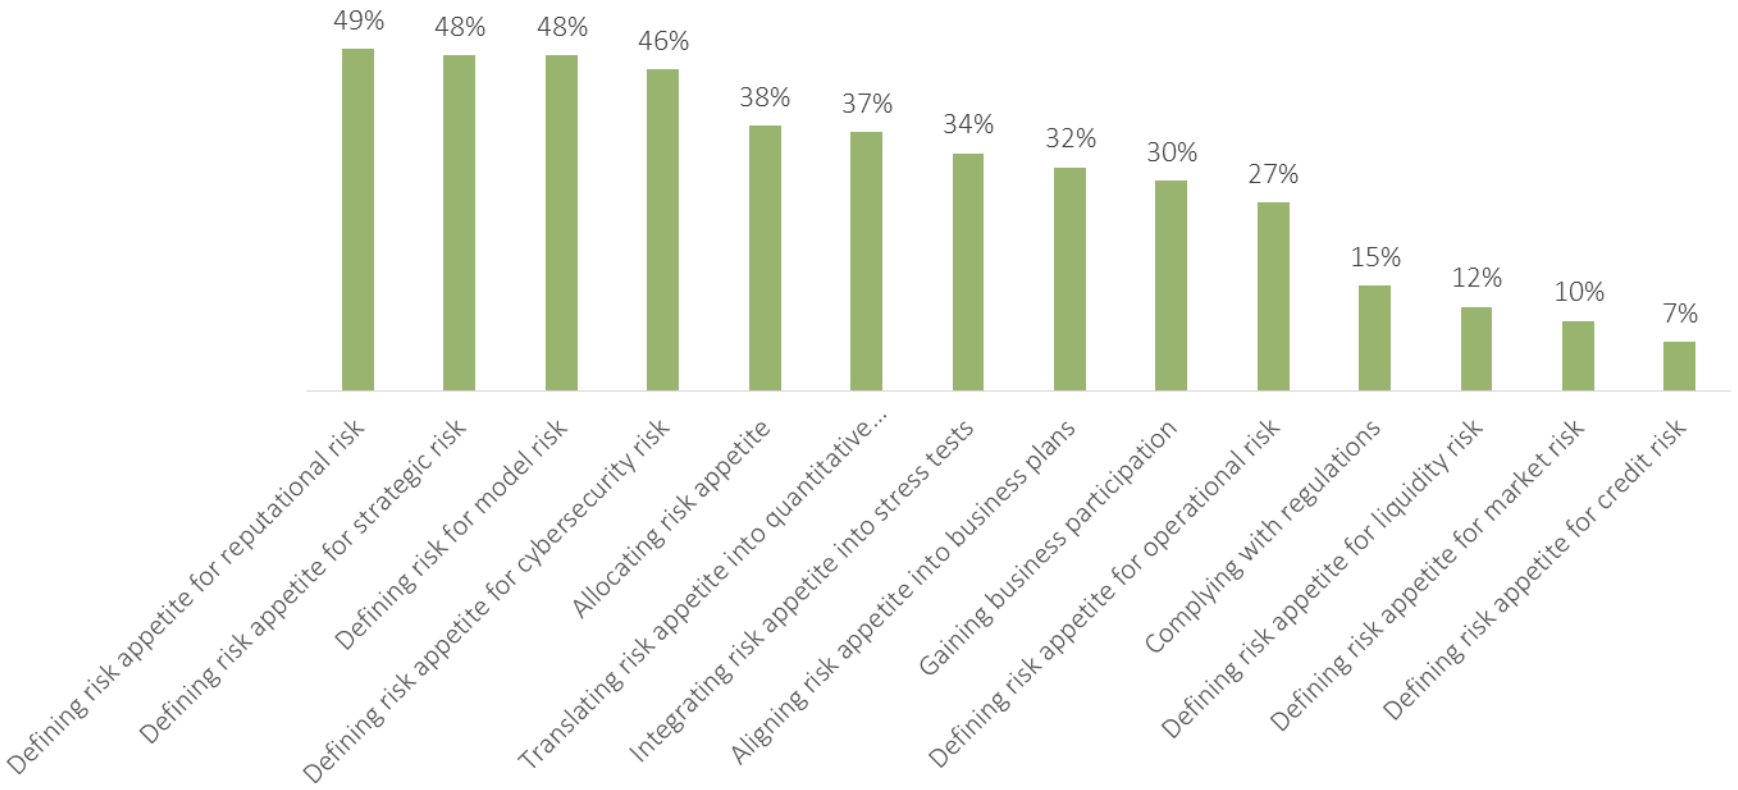
Companies that feel "highly prepared" to address the following issues



Source: Deloitte University Press, "Global risk management survey, 10th edition," March 2, 2017.

Around half of companies believe addressing risk appetite is very challenging

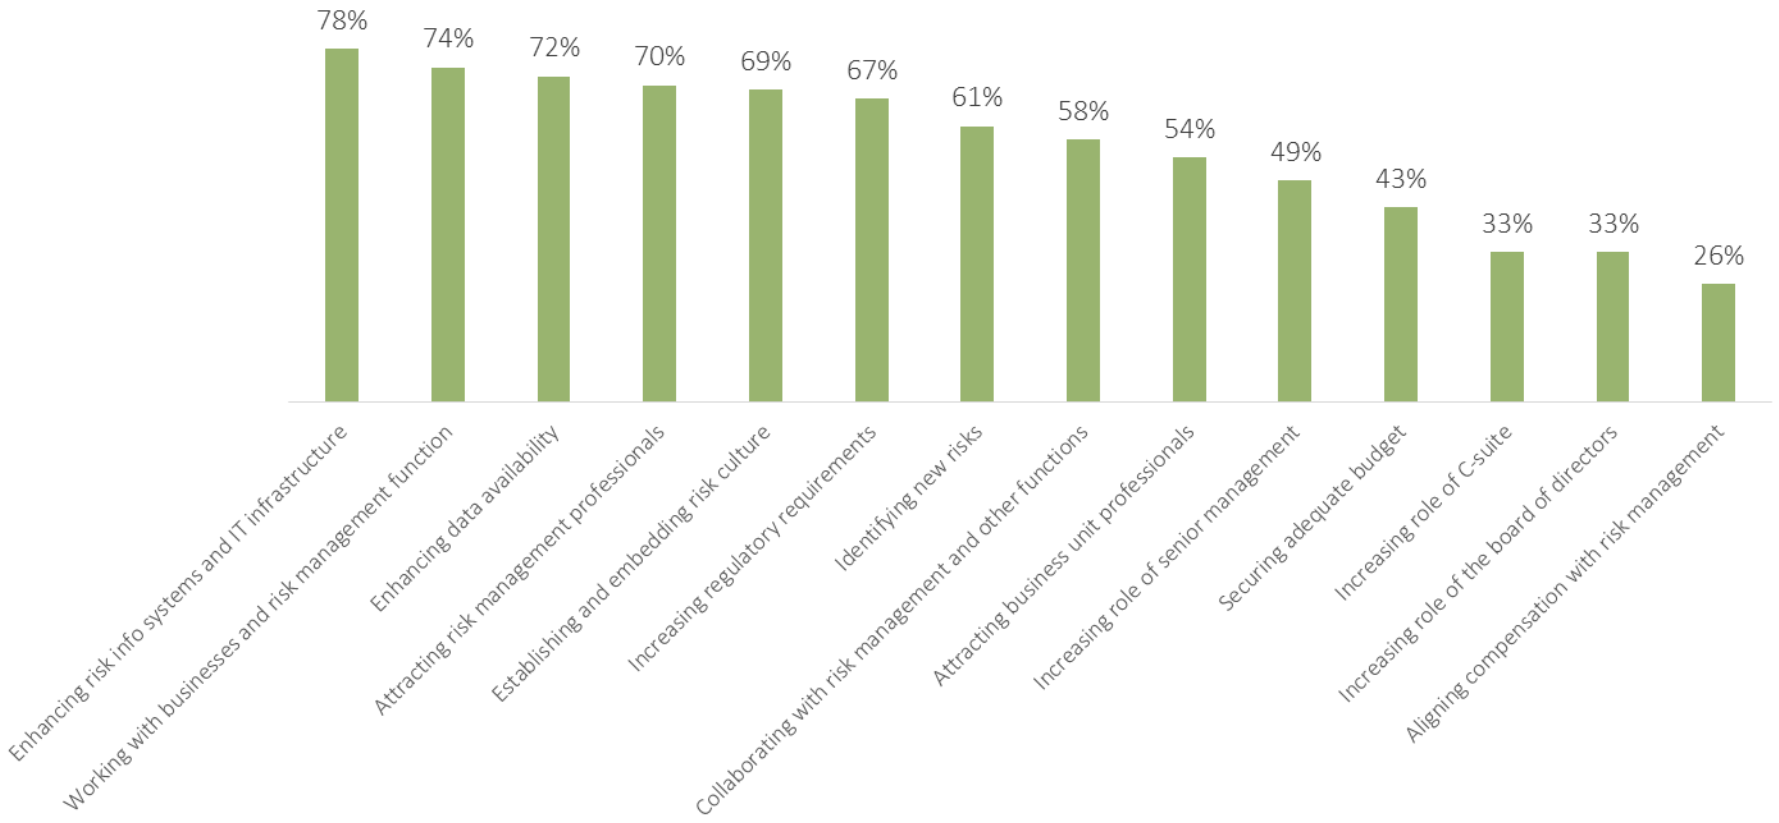
Percentage of companies responding that the issue is "very challenging"



Source: Deloitte University Press, "Global risk management survey, 10th edition," March 2, 2017.

Around 80% of companies will prioritize strengthening their IT infrastructure this year

Companies that responded they will put "high priority" on the issue



Source: Deloitte University Press, "Global risk management survey, 10th edition," March 2, 2017.