

Technology outlook: Broadband privacy, digital diplomacy and grid infrastructure modernization

Technology outlook

Apr

17

- On Monday, New America's Open Technology Institute will hold a discussion on "The future of broadband privacy – who will protect consumers?" FTC Commissioner Terrell McSweeney will deliver the opening remarks

Apr

18

- On Tuesday, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and Jigsaw will hold a discussion on "Brave new cyberworld"
- The Center for Global Development will hold a discussion on "Demonetization, digital identity and universal basic income – how big ideas are changing India and what it means for the world"
- The FCC's World Radiocommunication Conference Advisory Committee will hold its third meeting
- The Office of Science in the Energy Department will hold a meeting of its Advanced Scientific Computing Advisory Committee
- The National Telecommunications and Information Administration and the US Patent and Trademark Office will hold a meeting of the Internet Policy Task Force
- The Center for Democracy and Technology will hold a discussion on cross-border law enforcement titled, "The US/UK agreement as a model for reform"
- The Hoover Institution's National Security, Technology and Law Working group will hold a discussion on "Privacy and power: a transatlantic dialogue in the shadow of the National Security Agency affair"

Apr

19

- On Wednesday and Thursday, the International Association of Privacy Professionals will hold its 2017 Global Privacy Summit
- The Johns Hopkins University Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies will hold a discussion on "The fourth industrial revolution: opportunities and challenges"
- The Global American Business Institute will hold a discussion on "The importance of grid Infrastructure modernization and resilience: opportunities under the Trump administration"
- The Bertelsmann Foundation and the Financial Times will hold a conference on "Rewriting the code: a new path toward inclusive growth through digital innovation"

This schedule was updated on Monday, April 17, 2017. It is not exhaustive and is subject to change.*

Sources: "National Journal Daybook," National Journal, April 2017; Morning Consult, April 2017.

Technology outlook: FCC monthly open meeting and US preparations for cyber threats

Technology outlook

Apr

20

- On Thursday, the FCC will hold its monthly open meeting
- The Copyright Alliance will hold a briefing on H.R. 1695, “the Register of Copyrights Selection and Accountability Act”
- Nextgov and Route Fifty will hold a webcast on “Cross-government cyber collaboration”
- The US Chamber of Congress will hold a forum on “Tech transforms Africa 2017: how blockchain, Fintech and other emerging financial technologies can foster economic growth”
- New America will hold a discussion on “Move fast and break things: how Facebook, Google and Amazon cornered culture and undermined democracy”
- The German Historical Institute will hold a lecture on “The making of the digital world”
- The Institute for Policy Studies will hold a film screening of “National bird,” on the military drone program

Apr

21

- On Friday, the Broadband Deployment Advisory Committee of the FCC will meet
- The Brookings Institution will hold a discussion on “The growing cyber threat and how the United States can prepare”

This schedule was updated on Monday, April 17, 2017. It is not exhaustive and is subject to change.*