

Congress passes six-month FAA extension bill

Voting map for H.R. 3823

| Votes by Party | Yea | Nay | Not Voting |
|----------------|-------|-------|------------|
| Republicans | ● 221 | ● 7 | ○ 11 |
| Democrats | ● 43 | ● 148 | ○ 3 |
| Total | 264 | 155 | 14 |

Details on FAA extension

New Deadline: March 31, 2018

The bill passed the House by a vote of 264-155 and passed the Senate by unanimous consent

The legislation does not include President Trump's proposal to privatize air-traffic control

Several tax provisions aimed at disaster relief were included in the House version of the bill. These additions were stripped out in the Senate version that ultimately became law

Senate Republicans have indicated that they are committed to addressing hurricane relief through more comprehensive legislation at a later date

Sources: Bart Jansen, "Congress approves 6-month extension for FAA," USA Today, September 28, 2017; Cristina Marcos and Melanie Zanona, "House passes FAA extension with hurricane tax relief," TheHill, September 28, 2017; Melanie Zanona, "Senate may rework House-passed FAA bill to strip flood insurance language," TheHill, September 28, 2017; GovTrack.us, 2017.